Sally Harvey (VIC)

Early in August 2026, the AHSA Board invited me to fill a casual vacancy on the Board.

I accepted the position because I believe the AHSA has a vital role to play in the future of the Arabian breed in Australia. To fulfil that role, it must earn and retain the confidence of its members through sound governance, openness, accountability and ethical leadership.

A philosophical viewpoint on life that I happen to believe in.

My commitment is to represent the interests of members and to contribute constructively. The volunteer role has been an eye-opener in many regards.

I think the membership need to be reminded that their involvement is necessary, not just as keyboard warriors on social media but as co-contributors to their society providing input and feedback with courtesy and respect, whether it is to the board or the AHSA staff.

The job has been a challenge so far but it is not finished, hence my nomination to continue when the casual vacancy comes to an end.

If you don’t commit, you have no right to complain.
